JEWISH QUOTES

There are MANY quotations related to Jewish connections to vegetarianism, veganism, and animalrights at the website of the Society of Ethical and Religious Vegetarians \(SERV\).

"Judaism's way of life, its dietary practices, are designed to ennoble the human spirit. It is therefore a contradiction in terms to claim that products that come through a process that involves inordinate cruelty and barbarity toward animal life can truly be considered kosher in our world. In our world today, it is precisely a plant-based diet that is truly consonant with the most sublime teachings of Judaism and of the highest aspirations of our heritage."

Rabbi David Rosen, Former Chief Rabbi of Ireland

The Statement Signed by 70 Rabbis

"We, the undersigned rabbis, encourage our fellow Jews to transition toward animal-free, plant-based diets. This approach to sustenance is an expression of our shared Jewish values of compassion for animals, protection of the environment, and concern for our physical and spiritual well-being."

JEWISH SONGS SHOWING RESPECT FOR ANIMALS

A Song, "Donna, Donna," originally in Yiddish, tells the mournful story of a calf being led to slaughter. An Internet search reveals the song being sung by Joan Baez and by others, and provides background information about the song.

MUSIC

Daniel Redwood's album, "Songs for Animals, People, and the Earth." These can be heard and played on his website. The album can also be purchased on that website.

USEFUL LITERATURE FOR EVENTS

Jeffrey Cohan of JewishVeg.org offers a set of four infographics at "that have enabled people, for the first time in history, to easily grasp why a plant-based, animal-free diet is a Jewish imperative for our times."

"Earthlings" is a very intense video that shows the unbelievable cruelty endured by animals at human hands. If you plan to show it, you need to give people fair warning. While it has caused many people to go vegan on the spot, it can be traumatic to watch, and viewers need to be given great compassion and care while watching it.

JEWISH PRAYERS THAT HONOR ALL LIFE AND PROMISE NONVIOLENCE TOWARD ALL BEINGS

The daily morning prayers include: “Blessed is the One (God) Whose compassion is over the land; blessed is the (One) Whose compassion is over the creatures.”

The Ashrei prayer, recited three times daily includes: “God is good to all and His compassion is over all His works[including animals].”

Some non-denominational prayers for animals are here and in the book Peace to All Beings: Veggie Soup for the Chicken's Soul, by Judy Carman.

Also, the synagogue could join the universal noon prayer for animals available here, which states "Compassion Encircles the Earth for all Beings Everywhere."

RITUALS AND CEREMONIES (CAN BE MODIFIED TO INCLUDE VEGAN VALUES)

Tu Bishvat

There is a Jewish holiday, Tu Bishvat, which is the New Year for Trees, that has a Seder (celebration at which many fruits are eaten and many environmental teachings and teachings about trees and fruits are discussed) that is increasingly being considered a Jewish Earth Day. All the foods eaten on that holiday are vegan, so it is a great opportunity to consider Jewish teachings on veganism.

New Year for Animals

There should be efforts to restore the ancient 'New Year for Animals' and to transform it into a day devoted to increasing awareness of Judaism's powerful teachings about compassion to animals and how far current realities are from these teachings. Four articles about the importance of this initiative are at a special section online.

Vegan Seder

This was organized by JoAnn Farb. It is "a vegan Passover Seder that I organized for ECM on Monday April 17, 2017. It was the first time I had ever put together a complete Passover Seder, including creating a Haggadah (based upon Holistic Non-violence, a concept developed by Tribe of Heart film producers). On this page, you will find all of the recipes that I used and a PDF that you can download of the Haggadah that I assembled."
